Language: English (US) (US). A: As of 6.0.12, the TotalCode plug-in was dropped and replaced with a newer version, "TotalCode V6". TotalCode V6 is a smaller plug-in, easier to use, and doesn't need any files from previous versions, because it's a "stand alone" plug-in. I've used it without any issues, but I would suggest contacting Rovi to see what happened to their products. If you have the plugin, you might want to try disabling it first. I think it is included in a different version of the TotalVideo suite (if you have a license for it) so you might just want to re-download the TotalVideo suite in case you don't have it.
